The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the plane was the cold. It was like a giant hand reaching out to grab me. I shivered as I walked down the stairs.
The air was crisp and clear, a stark contrast to the humidity of the city I had just left. I took a deep breath, savoring the cool oxygen. The sun was shining brightly, casting long shadows on the ground.
I felt a sense of freedom and adventure. This was my chance to see the world from a different perspective.
I was going to explore the unknown, to discover new places and people. I was going to live. I was going to be free.
